

COP 23: Upcoming NABU events

16.11.
2017

13.30–14.30
Climate Planet

German premiere of Frontera Invisible: Impact of palm oil expansion for biofuels in the world The Columbia case

TREES ROBIJNS
AGRICULTURE AND BIOENERGY POLICY OFFICER

Frontera Invisible is the true story of communities trapped in the middle of the world's longest war, in which big landowners' rush for palm oil to produce 'green' fuel has displaced peasant farmers and indigenous people. It has destroyed natural habitats and concentrated land in the hands of the rich. One part environmental documentary and one part social research through victims' testimonials, Frontera Invisible gives voice to the local communities that are fighting hard to reclaim their land while exposing the major pitfalls of biofuels policy. The screening of the documentary will give the audience a chance to learn more about the consequences of our Palm Oil Demand in the rest of the world.

06.11.
2017

10–11.30
German Pavillon

Towards a new compact on peatlands for climate protection

TOM KIRSCHHEY
HEAD OF INTERNATIONAL PEATLAND AND SOUTHEAST ASIA PROJECTS

08.11.
2017

13.30–14.40
Climate Planet

Movie „Sea Blind“ and discussion on shipping in the arctic

BEATE KLÜNDER
OFFICER TRANSPORT POLICY
DIETMAR OELIGER
HEAD OF TRANSPORT POLICY

11.11.
2017

10–11.30
EU Pavillon

Contribution of the transport sector regarding climate objectives

DIETMAR OELIGER
HEAD OF TRANSPORT POLICY

16–17.30
EU Pavillon

Wetlands and Satellites

TOM KIRSCHHEY
HEAD OF INTERNATIONAL PEATLAND AND SOUTHEAST ASIA PROJECTS

13.11.
2017

13.30–14.30
Climate Planet

Community-based resource management in protected areas under climate change – NABU's projects on sustainable development

RONJA KREBS
PROJECT COORDINATOR LAKE TANA AND TIAN SHAN

14.11.
2017

12.30–14
UNDP Pavillon

Snow Leopard and climate change

IRINA MUSCHIK
OFFICER SNOW LEOPARD CONSERVATION
RONJA KREBS
PROJECT COORDINATOR LAKE TANA AND TIAN SHAN

15.11.
2017

15–16.30
Bonn Zone

Emissions from shipping

DIETMAR OELIGER
HEAD OF TRANSPORT POLICY